

Sohrab's channeling

21st June 2018

(Prior to the meeting, Sohrab read out excerpts from group Member Nandinie's email-forward on Star Seeds, and discussed this in detail.)

CELLULAR COMMUNICATION

THE REVELATION OF EVERYONE'S MISSIONS

ASSASSINATIONS

THE GANDHI FAMILY ENERGIES

(The Master begins by chuckling)

There is not a single 'young' soul sitting in this room today. Old souls, all of you! Most Lightworkers are, indeed, Star Seeds; you have repeatedly incarnated in various Universal societies. Many of you have also visited Earth at its inception, as well as at several points during its evolution.

We remind you: time is not linear. You can incarnate backward and forward in time, depending on the choices you make. Many of you, for example, will choose to exit when the time is right and go 'backwards in time' for your 'next' incarnation. By doing this, you will spread awareness in an earlier era; thereby facilitating the awakening that is now taking place on Earth.

Yes, you may loop back in time, altering the past to enhance the present. From our perspective, time is simultaneous. The future often alters the past; thereby altering the future. This is 'the chicken and the egg' syndrome.

Dear Friends: it's now time that you awaken to your magnificent qualities of knowledge, wisdom, Universal awareness. Not just here (pointing to the brain); but here (pointing to the body).

Your cells have already started 'speaking to you', and this process is only going to intensify. Here, we are not referring to cell memory; we refer to cellular communication.

Yes, your cells do have a memory of all your experiences, both on earth and elsewhere in the Universe. But they are now going to speak to you individually, urging you to explore and integrate experiences that are necessary for your current growth and evolution.

They will speak to you in many, many ways: a thought, a daydream, a night dream, a strong feeling or impression, a conversation with someone else (your cells were talking to you when he earlier spoke of Star Seeds), and so on.

The cells will also use the current media to reach out to many people: films, books, and most certainly through the net. Be alert to this.

Let's give you an example. Let us assume that you watch a film set in an earlier time period. Ask the self, "How do this era and this story make me feel? Does it evoke an instinctive reaction or response in me?"

You may then find inexplicable pleasure or distaste surfacing. You may find you just 'know it' and it thrills you, or that it makes you anxious and disturbed. Delve deeper: the story may not evoke a reaction at all, but the time-period might; or vice versa. Ask the self why.

If you take the trouble to do all of this, you will be shown (by the cells) what your connection is with that story or era, what exactly happened and why you needed to explore it at this moment in time.

Now, do not assume that this will happen with every film you watch or every book you read. But some will ‘jump out at you’. If they evoke a strong reaction or response in you: pay attention.

This is also an era in which your missions are going to be revealed to you. Some of you don’t know your mission, in which case it will be revealed to you by the end of the year. If you already know your mission, you will be given further details, clarity and specificity.

Do not block this information. If you resist this discovery, you will thwart the self. You have come for a purpose. Don’t waste the opportunity. Many of you have shied away from your missions in the past. There is no time for that now. Energies are speeding up, along with time. Your vibrations are now much higher. You have to learn to keep pace.

Your mission statement may be general or specific. They may appear to be minor or major. And most people will resist the ones that appear to be large. It’s not about accomplishing them immediately; it’s about acknowledging them, embracing them, initiating them and walking the path.

Let us give you an example. A person may already know that her mission is to spread spiritual wisdom and knowledge. She may now receive a download that her work needs to reach the entire world. This may be such a daunting thought that she might resist it, saying “That’s too big for me. I don’t really want so much attention!”

All she needs to do is open to the concept. ‘Reaching out to the world’ might not be the way she imagines it. She may simply have to start a blog or a website that influences people worldwide. Or it could be to strongly influence just one person who, in turn, spreads that awareness worldwide.

Many Lightworkers in India, specifically, are going to awaken to large, world-missions. Allow this to open out. If you resist, you will not only energetically harm yourselves, but also deprive others of the benefit of this mission.

Some people may worry that their missions appear to be 'too small'. Please do not judge your mission. You may not understand the far-reaching significance of it.

Let's give you an example. A person's mission could be exclusively to nurture and encourage his or her family. Or even a single family member. That's not 'small'! This could lead to unimaginable worldwide consequences.

Many years ago, there was a mother in Europe who repeatedly had one still-born child after another. She just 'knew' that she had to have a child, so she prayed fervently for success in this area. She asked for the blessings of Masters, she struggled to survive the body-beatings she received with each unsuccessful birth, and she persevered... till she finally managed to have a child. This child grew up to be Adolf Hitler.

Her mission was to give birth to Hitler. He had to come! He was a great world-teacher. Yes, he taught with the whip; not the caress. But he was a world-teacher nonetheless.

Your question to us is going to be, "Why didn't you, the Masters, stop him earlier? Why did you permit him to commit all those atrocities?" Our question to you is going to be, "Why did you permit him to go so far before you stopped him?"

He came to teach the world tolerance, oneness and embrace. He did this by mirroring to humanity its intolerance, separation and bigotry. If humanity had awoken earlier to the fact that Jews, Gypsies and Homosexuals (and therefore all minorities) were valid members of the human race, the Hitler would have been stopped much earlier.

It may interest you to know that he had, prior to his incarnation, made a pact with humanity. This was "If humanity awakens, at that moment I will allow myself to be assassinated.” He contracted to come and promote separation, bigotry and racial disparity. He was willing to let the people awaken and then shoot him.

Do you know that he gave people the opportunity to assassinate him umpteen times during his reign? He was actually meant to be assassinated. But humanity did not do so.

It was his mother’s mission to give birth to this child. Now, she sub-consciously kept resisting this mission, as she intuitively knew what he would be. So she kept creating still-births, refusing to allow that kind of a soul to come through her. But her higher-soul repeatedly urged her to fulfill her mission; and she eventually did so.

Similarly, it was the Mother Mary’s mission to give birth to, and guide, and nurture the Jesus. It was this, coupled with her inherent sense of feminine empowerment, which ‘created’ the Jesus. Without her, he would not have been half the Master he was on Earth.

And Judas was not the traitor he was made out to be...

Yes, you are correct. His life mission was to come and play out this role on earth, to facilitate the story of Christ; one that would serve as a teaching tool for the future of humanity.

For the benefit of many newcomers in the room today, let us remind you of a past session in which we had revealed to you that the Judas was, and still is, the closest friend of the Christ.

Before the Christ was born, there was a spirit discussion to determine who would come and play the role of the traitor. The two energies who loved the Jesus the most repeatedly volunteered to do so. They were the Judas and the Mother Mary. Yes, she volunteered to come and play the betrayer, out of love.

But at this celestial conference, it was determined that if the role was given to the Mother Mary, it would adversely affect mother-child relationships forever. So it was awarded to the Judas instead.

The Judas' mission was to play the betrayer. He often strayed from the path, because he loved the Christ so much. But each time he strayed and decided not to betray him, he was brought back on track by his feelings of greed, envy, jealousy and one-upmanship. These qualities were actually his guides and best friends.

It takes a grand soul to return to spirit and 'be hated' for eternity. He withstands this, even today, out of love for Jesus. Enlightened beings like you must now acknowledge this and give him the love and respect he deserves.

So all of you are awakening to your missions; now embrace them.

Questions?

So a Hitler, who comes to be assassinated, is not; yet a Gandhi or a Lincoln suffers this fate. Is this all part of the grand plan?

How do you know that Gandhi did not come to be assassinated? He did. When any world figure dies in a 'spectacular' way (an assassination or a bomb or a plane crash, for example) there is always a reason; one that is part of the grand plan. This has a dual purpose: it has to dovetail with their personal growth and evolution, and it has to educate humanity in some way.

The assassination of John F. Kennedy, for example, awoke the American public to many issues. They questioned the political and legal systems, the validity of certain people in charge and the influence of powerful committees, their loyalties, their business ethics, their belief systems, their feelings of supremacy and so on.

Does this also apply to Indira Gandhi and her son?

The Gandhi family has a strange and unusual lineage. This energetic collective always wants to live the big life and be in the limelight. It desires to repeatedly, lifetime after lifetime, change the course of history and greatly influence people.

This energetic lineage goes far beyond the Nehru family that you know. It includes those who, centuries ago, were leaders of men, movers and shakers, and those who influenced large groups of people, both positively and adversely.

The lineage also had a safeguard built into it; one that is not consciously known to its members. The safeguard is that when the family goes too far off-track, members of the family will be speedily and publically 'removed'.

Some of the clan members have been, centuries ago, both false prophets and genuine ones. Others have been world leaders who sometimes lead the people to the light and at other times plunged the masses into darkness. This energetic collective also includes the Borgias of ancient Italy. As you well know, many of them were also brutally assassinated. As a clan, they need to learn to wield power responsibly, and not to allow it to go to their heads.

What of the extreme violence in our country today? Why is this intensifying?

Yes, India has stepped up her processes of self-cleansing. She leads the world in this process. So scams, greed and corruption are being brought to attention of the general public. Rapes and murders urge the people to rise up and touch their innate feminine empowerment. Transparency is the order of the day.

India is preparing herself to rise up and be a shining beacon of light; one that sets an example for other countries to follow in the future. India is truly rising. But to get there, the spring-cleaning has to be thorough. Remember: for the wound to heal, the pus has to first come to the surface.

Another reason is this; to bring you face-to-face with your root issue: separation. Though all countries have a 'separation issue' to a degree, India has it the strongest.

What exactly does this mean?

Me for me alone. I must get ahead in life; to hell with everyone else...let me walk over them. My house must be clean; the garbage can simply be thrown on the street outside. I must make money and feather my nest; who cares how I do this? Very few in India think collectively; everything is Me..Me...Me.

Now, putting the self first, in balance, is healthy. That's being self-ish: taking care of the self. But a close second must be to think of your fellow men as well. You now have to learn to think as a collective.

YOU ARE IN THE JOY, LOVE, LIGHT AND THE EMBRACE OF ST.
GERMAIN.

(Sohrab shifts energies repeatedly)

SAI KA PRANAAM.

BLESSINGS FROM THE ENERGIES OF THE MAHA AVATAAR BABAJI.

BE IN THE LIGHT OF THE KALI MA.
