DEATH IN THE CONTEXT OF 2018/19 (PART 2)

ENERGETIC ESSENCE

MIND SOULS

STRADDLING TWO WORLDS

Greetings!

You may wonder why we have, over several sessions, repeatedly spoken of death. There are several reasons for this. The first: as Lightworkers, you have to now go beyond your fear of death. It's really time to KNOW that it's not an end; it's just 'going home'.

Secondly: You have to now understand this, internalize it and convey this to others. You are going to be repeatedly called upon, over the next few years, to counsel, guide, advise and comfort others who have lost a loved one. Help them understand that death is not a finality; it is a beginning.

Many Lightworkers in India are now going to be called upon to reach out to people in other countries and do the same. Many Westerners still believe this lifetime to be a 'one-shot deal'. You may be guided to help them understand the concept of an eternal soul.

Many of you sitting here are already thinking, "How am I going to reach the rest of the world?" This could occur in several ways. One person may find herself inclined to blog about it. Another may reach out to International friends on the email or over the phone. A grieving friend from abroad may come to stay with you to heal. Even a singular conversation may be all you need to have, in order to set off a chain reaction of healing and understanding.

At a prior session, we spoke of three 'new' forms of exiting this planet. Let's speak of a few more today.

The first is one that has, in the past, been chosen by a select few with extremely high vibrations. In the current era, it is an option that many can and will choose, as long as they have relatively high vibrations. This we call 'spreading your energetic essence'. A few magnificent beings who have used this form of exit in the past are Sai Baba, High Lord Mitreya, Maha Avataar Babaji and Mahatma Gandhi.

This is a process wherein you exit the physical body, enter the tunnel of light, and stay there till your vibrations reach such a crescendo that they explode into energetic essence.

This essence, like a perfume, spreads around Planet Earth and slowly permeates the physical and energetic bodies of all Her inhabitants. Yes, it enters the cellular structure of all her inhabitants and implants in them a new seed of creativity.

Individual Soul permission is not sought; nor needed: there is no 'down side' to this process. Every human, animal, bird, insect and plant joyous welcomes this; the highest distilled essence of the being who offers it to them.

Let's further understand this process, taking the Mahatma Gandhi as an example. You are well aware that, as a human being, he had several personal issues, biases and rigid principles; ones which he battled with while fulfilling his world mission.

His distilled essence would not contain his personality traits of rigid self-discipline, abstinence, frugality and the like. His highest distilled essence, which he has chosen to offer the world, is Unity. Oneness.

It is this that he has offered to every inhabitant on Planet Earth, urging them to find new, creative ways to explore Oneness. This would slowly urge them, over time, to unite with a person or situation, to bring themselves into a new understanding of this concept. This is the gift of his essence.

You may rightly question what happens to the evolution of a person who has chosen to explode into essence. How does he grow and evolve? He does so through your evolution.

He delays his actual entry into the spirit realm; possibly for millennia. He has chosen to grow along with the collective. What a beautiful and selfless choice. As you grow, he grows.

Another new choice of exit, now available to the human race, is to become what we will term a 'mind soul'. This could be chosen by a person on earth who is particularly bright, and has great expertise in a particular field or area. He might then choose to leave behind a mental legacy.

Let us illustrate this with an example. Though Einstein went through the normal processes of death, he chose to leave behind an energetic echo of his mind, knowledge, wisdom, 'out of the box' thought-processes and expertise. This formed an energetic sheath that spread worldwide; one that would only be accessed by those who were working on similar projects in his field of expertise.

Therefore, any scientist who chooses (either consciously or unconsciously) to tap into the Einstein energetic mind can do so. This will instantly connect him to the Einstein Collective; one that functions like a Universal Web. This would boost the scientist's mind and open it to new and revolutionary ideas and concepts.

So the Einstein is in spirit, growing and evolving; but he has placed a portion of the self on Earth permanently. And this portion continues to reside here as an energetic sheath, serving humanity in the field of science.

Many are now going to offer their services to humanity in this way: scientists, engineers, doctors, technological geniuses, and the like. Some who are passionate about serving humanity may even shed their bodies earlier than planned, as they may intuit that by doing so, they will be better able to further worldwide knowledge, rather than by staying on Earth in a singular body.

Questions?

Didn't Einstein's work contribute to the creation of the Atom Bomb? Surely this is destructive, rather than creative?

Einstein offered humanity tremendous scientific creativity, awareness and advancement; but humanity has to take responsibility for how it chooses to use this knowledge.

We repeat a statement we have often made in the past: nuclear power is neither 'good' nor 'bad'. Actually, in its purest form, it is magnificent. But it can be used to illuminate a country or destroy a country. How you direct the energy is your choice.

Let us speak of just one more beautiful choice of exit, now available to humanity. Many will now choose to enter the tunnel of light, return to the spirit realm, and grow and evolve there very rapidly by taking 'spirit-level crash courses'. However, as they do this, they may choose to 'open a pipeline' to earth, offering the Planet the benefit of their new energetic awareness and music.

These are beings that will choose to straddle two worlds: they will remain part spirit, part earthly. As they grow and evolve at an accelerated rate in the spirit realm, they will simultaneously spread their new-found knowledge, wisdom and awareness to both individuals and groups on Planet Earth.

Those who choose this have to be highly commended. Let's try and give you an earthly parallel to better understand this process. It's rather like having been born and raised in a rough slum, then getting the miraculous opportunity to move into a comfortable, elite neighborhood, receive the best possible education and yet choosing to return to the slum on a daily basis, spending most of your time there, to better the lives of the slum-dwellers.

Yes, once you have tasted the 'high-life', it's difficult to return to dirt and poverty. And yet something within the self says, "I want to give back to society, to my roots". So these souls will have graduated to the high-frequency energies of the spirit realm, yet they will choose to keep interacting with the much denser, harsher energies of earth...in joyous service.

Please understand that when you are vibrating with very high, refined energies, it is indeed difficult to reside in a dense energy structure for any length of time. The 'pull' to the higher frequencies is very strong. Yet they will have to defy this pull and carry out their choice of mission.

There are, of course, many more new choices of exits. Over time, we will reveal some more.
