RE-SCRIPTING THE BLUEPRINT

FALLING IN LOVE WITH THE SELF

VIEWING THE WORLD WITH CLARITY

A TWO-WEEK CLEARANCE PERIOD: PARENTS AND CHILDREN

Let us begin the session by sending love and light to all the names just mentioned. You have already generated a tremendous amount of golden light: use it for the self and for all those whom you wish to bless today. (Pause)

Take this light into your bodies: fill with it, enjoy it. (Pause)

Now direct it, in general, to the Far East. Bless those areas. (Pause)

Now ride on this light and connect with any loved one in spirit. Enjoy the process. (Pause)

Now use the light and create an energetic bridge between you and any Master of your choice. (Pause)

And it is so, and it is so, and it is so.

Dear friends, the light that you worked with so beautifully was a combination of your own higher frequencies, those of the Kali Ma and those of the Maha Avataar Babaji.

We will now begin a series of lectures, over several sessions, in which we will speak of radical new changes taking place on Planet Earth. Let us begin with the re-scripting of the blueprint.

Most of you are aware that, before you incarnate, you draw up for the self (with the help of Masters and guides) a plan or blueprint of the various lessons and experiences you would like to undergo for personal growth and evolution. You therefore place several key people and situations in this plan; ones that will assist you in the process.

The creation of a blueprint has been in practice for millennia. You were then told, a few years ago, that with the vibrational rise of the human race, the blueprint had become fluid. You were informed that you were no longer 'bound' by rigid structures and even cornerstones that you had placed in your blueprint, and that you could change the study course of your life by choosing to learn your intended lessons in different ways; possibly through different people and alternate situations.

Let's illustrate this with an example. With the structure of the initial blueprinting process, a certain soul might have chosen to incarnate as a woman, with the intent of learning to own her mastery and touch her power. She could have pre-planned a 'tough marriage'; one in which her husband would bully and control her. Her intended purpose would have been to learn to stand up to him and own her mastery.

She might have placed him in her life as an inviolable cornerstone, so however much she tried to leave him, this would just not happen. She would be with him for life. That way she would be preventing herself from running away from this lesson.

Then came the fluidity of the blueprint. Within this structure she could have married him, worked at standing up to him for a few years, realized that it didn't work for her, and then could have chosen to 'remove' him from her life...even if she had initially placed him there as a cornerstone. She could have then chosen to learn the same lesson from another person, such as a tyrant boss or controlling child.

Now, the blueprint has once again upgraded. You can now not only modify or change how you learn your lessons, but you can also re-write your future in a completely new, exciting and novel way; one you had never envisaged, even before you incarnated.

Because of this amazing freedom and flexibility, many people have now begun to experience shifts and changes in their lives that are unexpected and even unimaginable. Unimaginable; because this was never part of the pre-decided higher-soul plan. These changes may really shock and astound you, as you have not even subconsciously prepared the self to anticipate them. These events are being created 'in the now'. An example of this could be a poor, uneducated village boy meteorically rising up and becoming the President of a country.

Other examples could be far less dramatic; but nonetheless as astounding to the people who suddenly choose to rescript their lives. A woman could have spent most of her lifetime nurturing and educating her immediate and extended family, because she had contracted to come do so. She would probably resign herself to the fact that this would be always be so, as even as the older members of the family exited, there would always be younger ones to follow suit.

She could now, in one swift stroke, create a situation wherein they no longer look to her for this, or her life could change in such a way that she would be completely removed from all of them. This would give her the opportunity to start life anew. She might find herself exploring something totally unexpected, like science or technology.

The reason we are sharing this information with you is to help you understand that you can now create this at the conscious level as well. The only criterion is that it has to serve you in some way.

We urge you to internalize this information and think about how you would like to recreate your future in this lifetime. Even if, for example, you have been enmeshed in a lengthy divorce proceeding or an interminable court-case, this new information could help you end it overnight.

Even if you desire to manifest a huge amount of money in your life, it could happen...provided it is in your highest interest and would really serve you. If that is the case, list and energize the ways it will do so. But if it is only coming from a space of lack or greed; it won't manifest.

You will slowly observe startling changes taking place in your own lives, and in the lives of others. Yes, you will start noticing 'miracles' taking place. These shifts will begin slowly, worldwide; but over time, they will turn into joyous collective manifestation.

Use this knowledge productively: not only for the self, but for the betterment of your country and the world. Most of you firmly believe that corruption in your country is an insoluble problem. That's not true anymore. Use these energies to rescript India's future. Most of you believe that no politician is concerned with anything beyond power and greed. Rescript this belief system, and instead create honest, responsible, caring, productive people in high places.

We can hear you thinking, "This sounds too good to be true!" Yet it is so.

Now let us have your questions.

When you choose to change a cornerstone like a rough marriage, you need a level of power to take the very first step. After that, things seem to fall into place and become easier. How do you get the courage to take that very first step?

As you are all aware, this is the year of "Owning Your Mastery". So the power and strength necessary to take the very first step has to come from you and you alone. For this, you will not be helped by any Master, even if you pray from morning to night.

But if you find the courage to take the very first step, the Masters will then support and guide you. Let us take the example mentioned: if a woman wants to get out of an abusive marriage, she has to initiate the process by taking any one step in that direction. It could simply be to consult a lawyer.

If she does this, in the current energetic era she will then be supported by a specific holy trinity: her personal Master, the energies of the Kali Ma and the energies of the Maha Avataar Babaji.

The energies of the Kali Ma will encourage her to touch Feminine empowerment, and urge her forward, so that she finds it in her to take the second step, and the third and the fourth. The energies of the Maha Avataar Babaji will give her newfound wisdom, urge her to ‘think out of the box’ and will help her believe that nothing is insoluble.

Please know that all of you now have a team of Masters accompanying you at all times; but you have to assume the position of the team-leader. You can no longer bring up the rear. You are now the guide of an expedition into the unknown. The Masters walk with you, giving you sage counsel, nurture and support. But you have to lead the way.

This process of re-scripting the blueprint is so exciting and so freeing that most people will not use it. So much freedom can be threatening. It’s rather like offering you a free air-ticket to any destination of your choice, a complimentary stay at a luxury hotel and full visitation rights to the city...as long as you agree to make this journey all on your own. Most people would turn down this offer out of fear.

We ask you not to be the ‘stay-at-home’s. Learn to now be adventurous and manifest an unexpected, yet exhilarating, future for the self. Start by simply internalizing this information and believing in it; and then initiate, very consciously, the process of re-scripting your life in any way conducive to the self.

The mistake most people make with the process of manifestation is that they try to go from 0% to 100% in one giant leap. That is still beyond the capabilities of most people. Learn to manifest step-by-step. First manifest a goal that is just out of reach. Achieve that. That will give you the confidence and the impetus to reach for another goal that is slightly further away. Achieve that. And then continue the process till you get to the final destination of your choice.

Another Master will now speak of one more new change today; we will share many more with you in the future.

YOU ARE BLESSED BY THE ENERGIES OF THE MAHA AVATAAR BABAJI.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

THE ENERGIES OF THE KALI MA BLESS YOU.

We suggest you individually re-name her. Give her any name of your choice; one that appeals to you. It should be one that denotes brightness and expansion, rather than darkness and destruction. (Smiling) Why not call her your “Golden Angel”? Or even call her by your own name!

The Kali Ma’s frequencies are going to give you amazing clarity, as they will be concentrating on the crown and third eye chakras, over the next three to four months.

She will not force her way in, but will instead respond to your higher-conscious invitation. Why not call upon her consciously as well? You can do so by making a very simple statement, “I choose to welcome you into my life.” That’s all it takes: a simple, one-time, personal invitation.

Should you choose to invite us in, we will help you achieve two very specific goals for the now. There will, of course, be others offered to you in the future.

The first: to be able to look at the self and fall in love with 'who you really are', in a way you never have before. You will find yourselves beginning to truly acknowledge and appreciate your strengths, qualities, abilities, talents, skills and innate beauty...physical, emotional, mental and spiritual.

This is why the Kali Ma can be threatening to so many people. She unearths their debris and helps them see and acknowledge their own magnificence. She urges them to give up self-deprecation, self-negation and self-abasement. Most people shun their power and glory, and prefer to live in the comfort-zone of constriction and misery.

So, as you work with her energies to focus on what is magnificent about the self, you will simultaneously be able to forgive the self for those aspects you have condemned in the past. By filling yourself with beauty, you will be removing the garbage from the home-self.

The second: The ability to assess others around you with astounding clarity. You will easily be able to 'read between the lines' and intuit whether another is coming from a space of love or deception. You will intuitively know how best to reach another person. You will easily be able to filter out that which is unnecessary in your life, and absorb that which is beneficial to the self.

These two beautiful gifts are at your disposal: all you have to do is ask for them.

Now let us have your questions.

What is the difference between judgment and observation?

Observation is both vital and healthy; judgment is not.

You have the right to observe another person's actions and behaviour and decide whether or not it suits your structure and coding. You also have the right to decide whether or not you choose to interact with that person, based on your observations.

Judgment is the process of condemning them for their behaviour. This is not acceptable, as you do not know their past-history, circumstances or why they have acted in a certain way.

Isn't Kali Ma's mission also to help us cut cords with our baggage, see life afresh, and move away from pain and grief?

Yes, indeed. She helps you rid yourself of unnecessary baggage. She is indeed urging you to change humanity's pre-conceived, erroneous notion that pain is the only way to grow. She stresses that growth and evolution can also come from joy.

Dear friends, many higher-souls of the people you blessed at the start of this meeting are still present in the room now. There are also several 'intermediary energies' present: energetic presences that exist somewhere in between the physical person and the higher soul.

Please take a moment and bless these intermediaries, so that they carry back to their physical bodies energies that are necessary for individual processes. In some cases, they may use the energies to heal; and in other cases, to exit. Whatever is best for them.

Acknowledge them, welcome them, and bless them with clarity.
(Pause)

Now please place your palms upon your heart chakra, and bless it with golden light. (Pause)

Now, we ask each one of you to bless your parents. It doesn't matter whether they are in physical form or in spirit. It doesn't matter whether you have a joyous or a strained relationship with them. Just bless them. (Pause)

Dear Friends, the upcoming two-week period is one that offers you the opportunity to clear a lot of debris that may exist between you and your biological parents. In certain cases, it may extend to adoptive parents as well.

Use it to remove any tangles that may exist in the cords between you and your parents.

Please remember that, even if you have a marvelous relationship with your parents, there may be hidden tangles; ones you are not conscious of. These could even be from other lifetimes.

We do suggest that, over the next two weeks, you take the trouble to connect with the souls of your parents on a daily basis, and open to them in love.

Now, if a person has a particularly bad relationship with a parent (alive or in spirit), this process may be difficult. But we still suggest that you work at opening up, loving yourself enough to desire to remove the discord that still exist.

BLESSINGS.
