

Sohrab's Channeling

6th June 2019

A 'STUCK SOUL'

CELESTIAL SCHOLARSHIPS

UNIVERSAL ENERGY BEARERS

INTER-DIMENSIONAL TRANSFERS

Prior to the meeting, Sohrab shared with the group an unusual situation he had recently encountered in a personal session: that of a 'stuck soul'. A certain client's mother had passed over a year ago. She had been a vicious, cruel, uncaring and toxic mother to her only daughter.

The client came for a personal session, and Sohrab suddenly found himself linking with her mother. This was not something the client had asked for; it just happened. The Mother appeared to be dressed in all her finery, in what looked like a railway station waiting room, sitting stubbornly with her arms crossed over her chest, repeatedly saying two things: "I'm not going anywhere" and "Why is no one looking at me?"

The feeling that Sohrab got was that she was flatly refusing the help of the Masters, and so she was being allowed to just 'sit there' endlessly, till such times as she asked for help and guidance.

The client validated this image. This was the stubborn way in which her mother used to physically sit on Earth. She also loved to dress up and constantly demanded the attention of men. If anyone ignored her or complimented another woman in the room, she would get really angry. So for her, being 'passed over' by other souls was torture.

The client asked if she should try and energetically help her mother in any way. The Master told her that if she did so, she would actually be creating further karma with her. She was to leave her be.

Certain group members concurred with this statement; whereas others suggested that we, as a group, should help out, as everyone deserves another chance. Sohrab said he would ask the Masters for guidance when the session began.

This led to a further discussion on Death, and its processes.

This was followed by a channeling.

Greetings!

A general rule of thumb: all souls merit assistance. However, in this particular case, we ask you not to help her. And our explanation is unique to this case.

This is a soul who has had many lifetimes of complete and total narcissism and self-obsession. Her higher soul wants to help her break this pattern. As she was unable to do so in the physical form, she has deliberately been placed in 'a waiting room'; an energetic space halfway between earth and the spirit realm. Here, she is being offered the opportunity to break these patterns once and for all.

If you assist her, you will not give her the opportunity to do so for herself, and the patterns will just persist in the future. You would actually be doing her a disservice by helping her. However, you have the right to send her waves of love. This will help her understand love from a wider perspective.

So please take a moment now, and send her (along with all the other names listed for healing) the energies of pure love. And as you do so, please offer it to the self as well. (Long pause)

Thank you.

Yes, dear friends; as always, the discussion prior to the meeting was directed by us. During the course of this year, each and every one of you is going to have to deal with the passage of a loved one, or deal with comforting a friend who goes through this experience.

You must therefore understand the processes of passages and also learn to be balanced enough to truly serve another who is grieving. Many with whom you interact this year will not have this knowledge. Be gentle and understanding with them. Educate them; help them understand it is simply a transition and not 'death'.

We remind you that magnificent vortexes have opened our around Planet Earth; ones that offer souls who pass over the opportunity to catapult their growth and evolution.

The soul you just discussed could have entered one of these vortexes a year ago; this would have opened out her structure. But she stubbornly refused to do so: her choice. But most who do pass over this year will use one or more of them, to their great benefit. This will help them break patterns of lifetimes, or simply expand their energies. They are to be honoured for this choice; not mourned.

Let us speak of a few other reasons why some are choosing to pass over this year. Tremendous spirit opportunities are now being offered to those who have achieved a certain level of vibration on Planet Earth. These could be considered to be celestial scholarships. This often tempts people (at the higher soul level) to bring forward their exits and avail of these magnificent energetic opportunities.

So people on earth with the appropriately high vibrations may now choose to exit the planet, and transfer directly into a celestial space of pure education. One moment they are on earth, and the next moment they are in this space of pure, exhilarating vibration. For them, there is no pain, trauma or sense of loss. They will not go through the ‘normal’ processes of the tunnel of light and meeting loved ones in spirit. They will, instead, be instantly ‘enrolled’ in a high-level celestial college course of energetic expansion.

Souls who now choose this process are unlikely to be able to communicate with you immediately. This is not because they are in the traditional ‘healing sleep’; but because they have immersed themselves in a new form of energetic evolution. Till they fully acclimatize to the new frequencies, they will not be able to communicate with loved ones on earth.

A few souls who have achieved very high levels of vibration on Earth may now opt to exit and become Universal Energy Bearers. They could now choose to shed the body and instantly become millions of points of light and energy that spread throughout the Universe. In doing so, they offer their fragrance and essence to countless Universal societies. This is a statement of true mastery.

These Masters will communicate with you more through images, urges and feelings; rather than through words. This will feel very lofty and expansive. You will experience their magnificence.

(Now pointing to N. and K., two group members who had, in the past, lost their young sons) You already know that your beloved children have attained Mastery in the spirit realm. Both have now ‘upgraded’ further, and have spread their essence throughout the Universe in this manner. Yes, both of them.

When you now attempt to communicate with them, do not visualize them as you did before. Instead, open to points of light, energetic swirls and vortexes, inter-dimensional portals and the like. That’s who they are now. And their ways of communicating with you will feel very ‘different’. Learn to acclimatize to the ‘new’ and let go of the ‘old’.

(Smiling at N. and K.) Imagine: both of them have spread their essence throughout the Universe. Trillions of planets and societies will benefit from this!

(N. speaks out) I have been communicating with him on a daily basis for a long time now. Just yesterday he said to me, “I can no longer be with you in that way”. This confused and upset me. Now I understand what he meant!

Yes; he is now going to be with you even more intensely, but in an upgraded manner. Both of you may continue to receive messages, but they will now come more as emanations which you have to interpret.

But do not always expect earthly guidance about personal issues. The messages are likely to be much vaster ones now.

I just ask him to help me upgrade my energies.

And that is perfect, because that is now his mission: to upgrade countless Universe beings with his fragrance.

(Addressing N. and K.) Take a moment now and honour yourselves for having been magnificent energetic hosts to these two grand souls, while they were on earth. It takes a host of great power to be able to birth, house and facilitate souls of this caliber. Acknowledge this and bless yourselves.

Now let us speak of one more form of passage today:

Inter-dimensional transitions. Some may choose to shed this body and merge with another dimensional aspect of the self; one this is 'still alive' in a different reality.

Why would they choose this? There would have to be something that each of you desires to gain from the other. Let's take a simple example. Let us assume that a person in this reality is ready to shed the body, having expanded in the areas of love and compassion, but is still unable to 'crack' business and finance.

There may be a dimensional aspect of him that is a business wizard, but desires to further understand love and compassion. He may now choose to shed this body, move laterally into this incarnation, so that the two can merge, 'become one', and experience full expansion in both areas. When the merger is complete, the 'two of him as one' will then return to spirit.

Remember, this could work in 'either direction'. There could well be another dimensional aspect of you that has merged with you in this very reality, to complete a process before the two of you exit together from this reality!

These are just a few more examples to help you understand that all passages are not the same. Most still follow the traditional route, possibly now using vortexes as well. But there are so many more options now. Respect each person for his or her perfect choice.

Can we actually make a conscious choice and prepare for this in advance?

We would actually suggest that you do so. That would be healthy and natural.

Will people who commit suicide be able to avail of the vortexes?

They will be able to use certain vortexes; but not all. It will depend on their frequencies. Suicide, in general, is committed by those who are unable to touch even a fragment of their power and 'not do it'. So they will not be able to enter an 'empowerment vortex', as they have to learn this lesson on their own. But they could certainly enter others that prepare them to not repeat this pattern.

THE BEHRAM YEZAD BLESSES YOU.
