THE ENERGIES OF BAL THACKERAY

THE ENERGIES OF MARGARET THATCHER

THE ENERGIES OF AN UNKNOWN, FUTURE POLITICIAN

Greetings! A series of energies wish to speak today. Let us begin.

(The energy laughs through S) These are the energies of the soul you called Bal Thackeray. I have already introduced myself to you at a prior session and have explained my mission, and what I was able to accomplish, and not accomplish, during my lifetime on earth.

I have now chosen not to return to earth, nor to take any incarnation elsewhere. Instead, I am now working with Earth leaders, to attempt to further my growth and evolution, as well as to complete that which I was unable to do while in physical form.

Currently I am working through two energies: one you know, and the other you will get to know in time. I have energetically merged with the Obama (having gained his higher soul's permission for this) and work with him to bring about world peace and harmony. We are also working on integrating various groups or factions that are at odds with one another.

Why have you chosen to do this?

You may recall that, at a prior session, I had mentioned to you that my earthly mission was to initially sow discord, after which I had hoped to 'awaken' and then work towards the unification of various groups of diverse people. As I was unable to accomplish this before I exited, I have now chosen to try and complete this mission through a merger with various earthly politicians who also share this aim.

The higher soul of the Obama has joyously accepted this union. My energies will unite with his only when he deals with this aspect of his governance: at times when he is working towards reconciling differences between warring factions, uniting dissimilar groups of people, or dispelling hatred and bigotry.

At such times, our energies will be in a 50-50 merger, and I will offer him my energetic support, guidance, and past earthly expertise. This will benefit him as well, as he will feel urged to touch his own power and behave in a balanced yet expanded manner.

I have also contracted to work with a future politician who is currently only 5 years old. This politician will rise up from Africa and will indeed become a great leader and statesman in the future. He, too, recognises the energetic match, and has joyously contracted to merge with my energies, now and in the future.

It may interest you to know that he will have the propensity to behave and act exactly as I did, when I was on earth. He has taken up the challenge of merging with my energies, doubling this propensity, and yet battling those tendencies to stick to the enlightened path.

Though he will be a great and powerful future leader, he will suffer great inner conflict, and will constantly be at war with the self, just as the Jesus was, when he was on earth. And yes, he will be primarily accessing the energies of the Christ Office for the self.

Friends, I urge you now to stop categorizing me, condemning me, and belittling me, as so many of you continue to do. What happened, happened. Part of it was 'on-track', and even when I erred, you learnt and grew from my mistakes. I take full responsibility for all that was. But I am no longer that. Questions?

Are you working with any of our ministers?

What you witness in the Indian political arena is the rise of greed, corruption, one-upmanship and separation; ministers who desire to gain power and money, and do not care for the public good. This phenomenon has now become an actual energetic virus in the country.

As it has spread like the plague, very few Ministers and politicians are able to rise above it, and function in a fair and healthy manner. This plague is, of course, no excuse. It is surmountable with strength of will and commitment to self and to the cause.

This plague has to be cleansed, and for this to happen, it has to be brought to the surface. Scandals have to erupt. Scams have to be exposed. Politicians have to learn to be accountable for their actions. It is only after the debris is weeded out that new energies can be invited in; those which will expand and enlighten the individual and the system.

Yes, I am working with many such ministers and politicians, in two extreme ways. When necessary, I encourage the plague in a particular person, so that he intensifies his actions, which then come to the surface and are exposed. In other cases, I act as the healing surgeon, helping the person rise above this disease. I play the roles of both God and the Devil, as is needed. This is the greatest service I can give my country at this moment in time, and I shall continue to do so joyously, as long as is needed.

You earlier spoke of another young politician-in-the-making. I am getting that this kid is multi-lingual and very advanced.

This youngster is not only multi-lingual, but multi dimensional as well. This child is a prodigy, and already has an understanding of life far beyond his years. But along with this expansion, and due to his very high vibrations and energetic personality, he has the tendency to be manipulative, self-serving and devious, and can easily 'get away with it'. His challenge will be, in later years, to use this tremendous power for the good of the masses, and not for self-serving purposes. In the future, many will revere him; yet others will violently condemn him. His energies are as powerful as those of the Hitler. Though he will not function in that manner, he will have the capacity to either create, or destroy, at will.

That's exactly what Africa need: a powerful yet firm ruler.

Exactly. The continent of Africa is currently extremely energetically volatile. The latent power of the land and its hidden minerals is tremendous. The people themselves have tremendous potential, and this is often misused or misdirected. The continent itself is so potent that it can re-invent itself, or destroy itself. This is because of newly activated crystalline energies deep within the ground, which are currently emitting a powerful energetic pulse. All in Africa are being subjected to these vibrations.

It needs a strong leader who can bring black and white together.

Yes indeed; a leader who is only gentle and honourable will not be a great success. It needs a strong arm, coupled with compassion, integrity and great initiative. India needs the same.

Why do our politicians always come from 'separation'?

Dear friend, that is India's root issue! Each country has a different root issue: India's is separation. Look at the tremendous disparity between the rich and the poor, the educated and the illiterate. You take care of your own homes, but not your neighbourhood or environment. When driving, you only care about cutting lanes and getting ahead, not about the others on the road with you. Everyone jumps queues, steps over others to get ahead, and functions in a corrupt and self-serving manner, only to further the needs of self, without even considering the needs of the collective.

You work with Ray 4: Harmony through conflict. You create an event (like 26/11) which binds the country together. People start working harmoniously with one another. The rich and the poor suddenly see each other as fellow humans. You form groups, speak up and speak out. Then what happens? You let this fade away and revert to old, familiar patterns of separation. So then another mega-event is created once again.

BE IN JOY.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

Greetings from the soul energies of Margaret Thatcher.

It may interest you to learn of my personal and public missions, while I was on earth. I needed to teach self, and others, how to bring into balance yin-yang energies. I also had to facilitate the worldwide rise of feminine empowerment.

I drew freely upon my masculine energies, often in an imbalanced manner. Many dismissed my feminine energetic flow, yet it was very strong indeed: I had great abilities in the areas of conceptualization and creativity. I, however, often implemented my feminine creativity in an imbalanced masculine manner.

At times I was in perfect balance: I could implement a task, or take action, from the fullness of my creativity. At other times I tilted into stubbornness and arrogance, and then made inaccurate decisions for the country.

The Falklands War should never have happened; this was not part of earth's contract. Once initiated, however, Planet Earth allowed the human race to go down an unexplored path of evolution.

On the other hand, I was successful in opening up feminine empowerment worldwide. Energetically, many women followed my lead. This brought about new creativity, new positions for women in business and society, and a new level of equality in marriages.

Does a leader generally work to influence his or her own country, or the world?

A leader's public mission generally targets his or her own country the strongest, but his extended influence is generally felt worldwide. Also, any world citizen has the divine right to tap into the energies of any public figure. In doing so, he accesses these energies in an intensified manner.

Why was your male side imbalanced?

I am a very vigorous soul, and am, even at source, very active and action-oriented. I often erred, over-using my masculine side, to gain the approval of others, or to prove myself in a male-dominated world. At times, I allowed power to go to my head. I was unable to see that stubbornness and the desire to control an outcome only comes from imbalance of the yin-yang. I perceived it to be strength and decisiveness.

A worldwide shift has already taken place; the Age of Aquarius has dawned. Many leaders, including Obama and your Manmohan Singh, predominantly work with a flow of feminine energies.

A whole host of new leaders have already been born in various countries around the world: it is the dawning of a new Political era for Earth. Some of these will be seen and acknowledged by you over the next fifteen to twenty years. Others may 'make a sudden appearance' later in their lives; perhaps in their mid 30s or 40s.

These particular leaders will all contain a predominance of Universal, not Earthly, energies. Over 90% of their structures will be cosmically influenced: they will have an innate understanding of Universal unity, brotherhood, wisdom, evolution and upliftment. They have come to take Earth into an evolved future.

We give you an iron salute.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

Greetings!

I am the energies of one who is on Planet Earth already. I am currently 7 years old and I have been incarnated into your country. I will be one of your future leaders.

I will be highly educated: I hope to go to Harvard. In the future, I will combine my westernization with my deep love for India and all things Indian, to work for the betterment of this country.

I already see the world, not as a series of separate and diverse countries, but as one united entity. I will eventually enter politics through the business route, using my family status and connections to further my career. I may even choose to ally myself with a world organization like the UN or WHO.

I will be a promoter of the concept of a United World Government: one in which each country has a representative and a say in world governance; and one in which the needs of the world is taken into account, and not just the petty desires of separatism. My plans and policies will be 'ahead of their time'; and I am likely to be laughed at, scorned and derided. However, I will persevere, and will pave the way for possible future change.

It is my joy and a privilege to be with enlightened beings like you today. I intend to make many such visits to various groups around the world. I have no knowledge of this at a conscious level, but your energies will filter into my incarnated self.

I have always wondered why I need a visa to enter another country, when the world is my playground!

I hope to be able to abolish this, and instead establish a database of all world citizens. This will not be based on nationality, colour, race or sexual preference; but instead on what each person has to offer the world. This database would include your skills, abilities, and the magnificence of your personality.

You said you are currently 7 years old: are you already seen as 'special' by those around you?

I am seen as an 'idiotic idealist' by my family! They are amused by me and my thought processes. They perceive me as being one who has 'no direction in life', one who is a dreamer. They have already decided that when I am an adult, I will amount to nothing, and that I will have to 'be taken care of' by the family wealth. They even consider me simple-minded, and have no inkling of my upcoming mission. Even I, at this age, have not yet awoken to it; but deep within self I know I have come to facilitate world-wide change.

I hope that you are working with the new souls who are coming into the world!

Indeed I am; my focus is to anchor new energies worldwide, and to help others, with older energies, facilitate an internal upgrade.

BE IN JOY.

(S now speaks)

Let us now offer light to all those who requested healing; as well as to all politicians worldwide. As I speak, I am sensing that there are likely to be some major political upheavals in the near future. Whenever and wherever these occur, let us remember that the cleansing is necessary. Let us not get caught up on the drama of the events.

Thank you.
