NEW TEAMS OF UNIVERSAL FRIENDS WORKING WITH PLANET EARTH

Greetings!

We would like all of you Lightworkers to welcome new teams of Universal friends, who have been invited by the Higher Consciousness of Planet Earth to come and work in groups, offering pure, unconditional service to your Mother Planet. Take a moment now and welcome them energetically (pause).

These wonderful groups are from no singular source in the Universe. Each team is comprised of members necessary and appropriate for its purpose. But one common factor is the desire to offer pure service, with no desire for gratitude, appreciation or acknowledgment.

These various teams will work, starting this year, with different aspects of Planet Earth. As time goes by, more and more such teams will be invited to diversify the work and focus on newer, different areas. The teams that are here so far are working on five predominant aspects.

The first is a massive one, comprising of hundreds of thousands of Universal souls, Masters, Guides, Entities and even pure Universal frequencies which have no form. This team will be working with the Collective Consciousness.

This group will not descend onto the planet at all. It will remain between the layers of the Ionosphere and the Exosphere, encircling the planet, and it will start to work very gently with the overall Collective Consciousness, but focusing upon the Human Collective Consciousness, stimulating it and gently urging it into expansion. It is being infused with a new vibration, frequency and energy.

As this begins to work, these new energies will filter down into the physical brain of Human Race, urging you forward in your quest for spirituality and the alignment of the self with the Self.

Now you will understand why we have been urging you to chant the marriage vows with the self. (At a prior session, group members were urged to repeatedly say to the self, on a daily basis, "I promise to love, honour, respect and obey MYSELF.")

This will help you align not only with the self, but also with this vast, magnificent group, at a speedier rate. As this occurs, you will be emitting the same energies to others around you, who will, in turn, be urged to do the same.

The entire function of this group is what we have just described. They will not be working with specifics within your consciousness; they will simply be urging the higher consciousness to align to a stronger degree with the individual. As you, individually, begin to discover and fulfill your purpose and life mission, the Human Race will energetically leap forward.

Many who habitually resist the promptings of their own Higher Consciousness will fight these energies. If they continue to do so, they will begin to disintegrate. This could take on the form of a physical disease, or other forms such as feeling depressed, rootless, displaced, maladjusted, mission-less and so on. These kinds of disturbances will hopefully provoke them to go within, listen to the inner voice and start to accept the union of the self with the Self.

The second team is going to divide up, form sub-committees, actually inhabit Planet Earth and stimulate creativity. Now here, we are not just speaking of the visual or performing arts. We refer to your divine right as a human being to be creative in every possible aspect of your lives. This includes being more creative in your personal life, home life and business. This group will urge you to think more creatively, to find new ways of approaching daily life, to challenge yourself, to feel excited about exploring something new and to shine with your own, full, magnificent light.

The third team will be focusing on technology. This unit will be working from above the planet, creating an energy network to stimulate the brains of the appropriate people to facilitate the creation of new, cutting-edge technology. They are also going to help Planet Earth release technology hidden within her surface, in repositories and caves.

Expect, this year, interesting new findings. Strange artifacts may be unearthed, which scientists will discover emit unusual vibrations. This will provoke them to examine them more closely and discover their real use. New crystalline sources will be discovered, which are very technologically beneficial in their energetic emanations. Expect new minerals to surface which will change the way you live and function. Expect wonderful new technology to arise, which will only serve humanity further.

Those, however, who are addicted to technology, will be forced to review this during the course of the year. It is perfect to be enthusiastic about technology and to avail of its magnificence; but when a person moves into a space of obsession, wherein he eschews human relationships in favour of technology, he then has a serious imbalance.

Those who are technologically addicted may experience several things happening to them this year. Much of what they are obsessed with will malfunction. They may realize that this technology has affected their physical bodies, causing harm and disease. And most importantly, all those who are technologically obsessed are going to be pushed, by their own higher souls, to forcibly work on human relationships. They will have to confront others, deal with their suppressed emotions, face buried issues and start living an emotionally-interactive life.

Friends, none in this room are technologically addicted; but most of you know people like this. Help bring this to their attention, so that they are forewarned.

The fourth group is going to be positioned far above planet Earth, and will assist her in her processes of self-healing, self-nurture and regeneration.

This group will be serving the planet herself, and not her kingdoms. It will take into account her personal needs. This magnificent group will very carefully monitor and stimulate necessary earth shifts and movements this year. These could be near the surface or deep within her structure. If the core needs to send out an impulse, they will help facilitate the process. This may not be felt physically, but most certainly energetically.

We share with you this abstract information because we would like you, as Lightworkers, to really tune into this aspect. Your bodies are also representative of

Her body. Tune into your own bodies, and if you find a disturbance or imbalance within the self, energetically work towards healing the self and the corresponding aspect of Planet Earth's structure simultaneously.

You do not have to work on them separately: just intend, as you work on the body, that the same aspect of planet Earth is also being healed.

Now here is the interesting part: as this work is very individual, it has to be done by individuals, not groups. So hypothetically, if two people are working on liver issues, each may be connected with different areas of Planet Earth. Yet both need to serve her.

Please know that the power of one is as potent as the power of a million. And through this process, you are also learning how vital your individual participation is, in the healing and regeneration of your Mother. Each person is valid, and each person counts.

So if even one person who is aware of this information does not participate in this way, the portion of the planet to which they are directly connected will not be healed. Because each one of you is directly linked to parts of the planet, and those parts are exclusively under your purview. Yes, each person is exclusively linked to approximately one cubic mile of Planet Earth. This only 'changes hands' when you exit the planet; it then passes on to another soul.

So, as you grow and evolve, that area flourishes. When you go into physical, mental or emotional disarray, that area follows suit. It is singularly and directly connected to you. So learn to 'cultivate your own garden'.

This area also serves to nourish you. Since you have chosen to incarnate on Earth, you do need a portion of Her to be uniquely yours: to anchor yourself to Earth, and to store your personal coding. This coding includes all your experiences, in different lifetimes, in differing parts of the Universe. This is like a Universal super-computer, responding only to you. You command it in fullness, and it grows and regenerates. You abuse it, and it breaks down. Each is dependent on the other; neither can exist without the other.

Now be aware of his, and choose to connect with and explore your portion of the planet. This may be deep within Her structure or at surface level. It may be physically inhabited by others, but it will still be uniquely yours.

The fifth (and last group of which we will speak today) is a beautiful one; a collective of extremely refined Master energies from all over the Universe. Some of them you are familiar with and others you have never heard of; but each and every one is a supreme Master.

They have come for one purpose alone: to sow the seeds of compassion. There is a sore lack of this attribute on Planet Earth right now, and She has decided that this energy is even more important than the energy of Love. This is because compassion includes love, caring, embracing another as you would embrace the self, forgiving the self and others, non-judgmentalism and many other such qualities.

This team is going to be darting in and out of Planet Earth, and in and out of you as well, sometimes residing in your homes for a brief period of time, particularly when you are being dis-compassionate; urging you to delve within and explore compassion.

If there is one word we would like you to mull over this year, it is compassion. Find your unique meaning of the word. Ask yourself, “Where am I compassionate, and where am I not? Where can I improve in this area, and where am I flowing?”

Do not look at this in a linear manner. Sometimes, to be truly compassionate, you have to exercise ‘tough love’. At other times, you may just have to embrace another, and let them go through their experiences without trying to change an outcome. Compassion has a vast gamut of emotions and behaviour; it is not just being loving and nurturing.

Questions?

I would like to refer to what you said earlier about technology. What of those who misuse it?

Those who do so are going to find themselves fragmenting. Those who use it to willfully and deliberately harm others (unless it is in their celestial blueprint) will find themselves fragmenting so badly that it will even affect all their simultaneous and concurrent incarnated selves. They will speedily return to spirit, and will spend eons working at 'bringing themselves together'.

What of those who misuse the soon-to-be-discovered crystals and minerals?

Please recall that we had earlier said that the Mineral kingdom vibrates at the highest frequency of all the kingdoms of Planet Earth. So in this case, minerals cannot easily be misused. This is because they are vibrating at such a high frequency that when a person of lower frequency attempts to misdirect them, there is simply no match of energies. So they cannot be directed in a harmful manner, unless this is in the blueprint of earth to, perhaps, be partially destroyed through the use of a laser beam.

I was recently talking with a friend about Planet Earth and the collective consciousness, and found myself so moved that tears were rolling down my cheeks...

At that moment, what happened was this: at a sub-conscious level, you connected very strongly with that area of Planet Earth that is uniquely yours. We urge you and all others as well, to keep tuning into it. Explore it further.

If I am connected to a portion of Planet Earth, and I exit and reincarnate on Earth again, will I still be connected to the same area?

Not necessarily. In general, if a person's trend is to return to earth repeatedly, he may choose to request re-connection with the same area. But more often than not, a kindred energetic soul takes over that area; one who has similar issues to work out. And when you return, you will again swap with another kindred energetic soul. Your issues at that time may be quite different, and therefore another tract of land may be more appropriate for you.

You spoke of the 5th group slowly infusing us with compassion. Why slowly? Surely we need a 'punch'?

We are only permitted to influence you, not re-direct your course. Let's understand why. Each Universal society has an energetic coding. This coding, which belongs to the whole group, has a certain growth structure which it must follow. Simplistically, you cannot expect an acorn to grow into anything but an oak tree. It cannot grow into an animal. It has to follow a structure. It has a pathway to follow, it has branches and leaves to sprout, and it has to eventually produce acorns with which to regenerate. This is its soul mission. We can influence the acorn to grow a little faster, but we cannot urge it to evolve into a dog.

(Pointing to a young group member) Many of these teams of Celestial Masters include the ancient Greek and Roman God energies. Please inform you friends of this, as all three of you are so very connected with this energetic flow. This year, you will all start to feel their presence more and more, because they are back. In a new and upgraded form, but they are back.

BLESSINGS. YOU ARE IN THE LIGHT, LOVE AND EMBRACE OF LORD SANNANDA AND THE ASHTAAR COMMAND.

BLESSINGS FROM THE UNIVERSAL MOTHER MARY.
